“ There are so many memories swirling in my head about my Dad, but the one that comes to the surface the most is how much he loved to be outdoors and gardening. Dad could grow just about anything. He loved all plants, but especially flowering plants. He would take a clipping of a plant and have a vibrant, lively and beautiful plant growing in no time. He also liked to play pranks on people and laugh. You had to watch out for Dad. :D

My Dad also enjoyed music. I have many memories of my Mom and Dad impromptu dancing in the house sometimes to just the music my Dad would hum. He loved restoring old radios and would have radios on in one room and the TV on in the living room at the same time. I miss my Dad. I love you, Dad.
