“ My father was unique...one of a kind. He has shown and proven to the rest of the surviving Westons and everyone he came across to love that: NO child of God's is left behind! He touched many musically talented people with his natural passion for music. His music was a way of him expressing his love, joy, pain, and compassion running deep in his heart. If you were one of the fortunate to witness any of his creations as he sat in front of the keyboards, closing his eyes as he tilts his head to the right, and nodding to every key he played, he wanted to hear how his heart was feeling....

Im thankful for God allowing my father and I to share the bond and connection we had between us to my children, my mother, my twin (Paul Weston), my aunts and uncles, and to everyone else that seen passed our stubbornness...(the ones that truly new the good and bad Lamont and aka "Lamont Jr") and im braced us with unconditional love! ...I know the struggle is real! Lol.

Last but not least, a month before my father passed I asked him for something, yes, I Adrianna Weston asked Lamont Weston for something! I asked him to promise me he would devote the remaining of his life on earth to God. Not to worry about the past and apologising to me nor anyone else BUT God! I told him the best present him as my father could ever give me as his daughter is his secure place in heaven with everlasting life so when we meet again it will be for eternity!

I want to thank every relative/friend/church families/and people I never had a chance to meet but had the pleasure of knowing my father (short or long term) for all the support whether itit was through a phone call, a visit, or a prayer and I appreciate you all for never turning away from one of God's precious child, my father, Lamont Weston.

“ To Marie and Lamont's daughters Adriann Marye Weston (Canal Winchester, OH) and Nia Paul. Including Mr. Weston's grandchildren Dashenique Weston (Canal Winchester, OH), and Josiah Ford (Canal Winchester, OH), my sincere condolences are with you all. Cherish the good memories, embrace each other with love, and seek the comfort of the words of the Lord. His instruction is the tree of life to those who take hold of it and its ways are pleasantness and it's paths lead to peace (paraphrased). You all are one family for Lamont. He was blessed to have you all. I know he now has the vantage point to see clearly (past the tough times and the good)how much you all really have been a blessing. Sincerely, Patricia Taylor.send condolences to the family.
