“ My most fond memory of Ray was when he stood up for me in our science class. One day a student continuously harrassed me by trying to make me do their work, I remember Ray sticking up for me and making that person leave me alone. Ray told me not to let anyone walk over me like that which really helped me become a confident person. I will never forget all the laughs me and him shared. Thank you Ray for teaching me such amazing art techniques. I loved collaborating on the Homecoming banner with you. We made a true work of art and I treasure our friendship.
