“ Mr Andy was my Sunday School teacher many many years ago and I loved him to death. I haven't seen him in years but I still love him and I know he still loved me. I agree that Mr. Andy had real Christian unconditional love for everybody. I can't wait to hug his neck on the Streets of Gold one day. God Bless the family I know he will be missed greatly.##imported-begin##Angie Autry Shelnut##imported-end##

“ Ruth & family,

I'd always planned to be with you when this day came, but now work won't let me off unless it's immediate family. My heart says you are, but they go by "blood-kin", not feelings. I will get down to see you soon, which may be better anyway, since I know you're well taken care of right now. You have a lot of friends and family to love you through this time. You have something most wish they had - some great memories of your time spent together, traveling and just sharing time together at home. You also have a close family, which is another thing seldom heard of any more. It's because you and Andy did something right along the way, to keep your family close.....a job well done that will serve you well for the rest of your life. They will make sure you have everything you need.....today and always.

We love you,
