“ To Mrs. Valentine, Robin, Greg and family:

There is obviously no good time or way for someone whom you care about to die, that I know for sure. I was saddened to hear about Mrs. Annie, but happy to know she did not suffer long. She lived a long time, had much enjoyment in her life, left memories to be cherished, and most importantly, she made it possible for you all to be here . . . to live your life. There can be no you, without her.

When I first heard the news of Annie's passing, what struck me most, was that I suddenly remembered how she would say, "Hi Sheila" and "that girl is so crazy," with a twinkle in her eye. She liked me! I've known her most my life, and though I didn't see her often, she left me to live with a memory of her.

Please accept my most sincere condolences on your loss.

I love you all.

“ We offer our humblest sympathy, and we are sorry that we couldn't be with you all in this time of sorrow. It's not easy to hear that she in a better place when you miss so much, and wish that she was still here. But know that it was in the will of God, which means that she will be better then ok. God bless you all. We are here for you if you need us.

“ Let It Be Told

Written by Toni L. Harper

*She climbed the staircase to heaven shouting "Free at Last".
Thanking the Lord for allowing her transition to be fast.
No more sickness, sorrow or pain....She's on her way home.
To live with her Heavenly Father
that sits on the Throne.
She stops to admire her new robe
it's as white as snow.
Her Halo gives her face a warm and youthful glow.*

*When my Aunt Ann arrived at the Pearly Gate. She was right on time and not a minute late!
As the gate slowly opened she heard the most Beautiful Sound.
It was the clapping of her wings, Praising God as they flapped around.
She then stepped directly into God's Guiding Light. What happened next was the most amazing sight!*

*Her mother and father appeared and took her by the hand. Together they lead their daughter into the " Promised Land".
Her sisters danced and rejoiced and her brothers did the same too.
But the real celebration came when she heard...
"Grandma I've been waiting for you!".*

*It was a Holy Celebration attended by family and friends. That we can only have faith and hope that we will see them again. Accept the Lord today because tomorrow may be too late!
Don't you want to be able to walk through the gate?*

*Glory, Glory, Glory... This is my Aunt Ann's Story.
Let it be told, Let- It- Be- Told
"You tell it like it is Mac!"*

I love you Aunt Ann! Thank you 4 introducing me to Jehovah, for he is GOD all by himself. The Beginning and the End. I surrender ALL. The seed you planted is finally Germinating, growing and producing some fruit. I know you'll be there waiting for me when I cross the river. Enjoy your new room - Luv Mac.##imported-begin##Toni L. Harper affectionately known as "Mac"##imported-end##
