“ Ajee, I would think of the the good times you had whenever you visited my parents home. and I would be sooo happy to talk to you and I did. You were such a friendly, kind, someone with a good heart, someone who was always helpful. I still cannot believe you're gone. I do not understand why you're gone so early. I wish you were here to give me some advice about my own life. Life can be complicated at times and the only people who are there for you are your parents and grandparents. I wish you were here to give your best advice. I would have listen. I really miss you because you were such a good person. You tried your very best in everything you did. You've helped so many people. You did well and I'll never forget about you. My life is so empty now and I wish you were here. I guess all good things do not last forever. I believe you're in a peaceful and quiet place. I know you're happy. You're miss forever. Always know that I love you and miss you a lot...##imported-begin##Nanda##imported-end##

“ Ajee.. I really miss you. You were an amazing grandmother and mother. I feel blessed to have had you in my life. There are many things I regret. I wish I spent more time with you. I wish I called more. I wish you knew how much I really love you and how losing you has affected me; how it has affected all of us. I can't believe that you're gone. It still feels like I'm going to see you someday somewhere. I hope that you can see how we are all lost without you. You were an amazing grandmother. Whenever I need advice or I need help, I always turn to you. I know how much you care about all of us. I love you Ajee.##imported-begin##Natasha Shiwmandal##imported-end##

“ Maa, today would have been your 75th Birthday. I used to think I will have a surprise for you in GA but instead you surprised all of us. We all miss you dearly Maa and still wishing we had some more time to spend with you. It's hard to understand why we are being suffered not to have parents for we are good children but they say God knows the best and our parents are in a better place. I miss you Maa. I will always love you no matter you are not visible in person anymore. I hug and kiss your picture all the time. You were a beautiful mother inside out and loyal one too to your family. Maa it's hard to not to think about you. I miss you more than I ever missed anyone or anything in the whole wide world. Many days I am longing to touch you, hug you and kiss you but no more of you will we have. Maa it's hard to move on without you, I just feel like to scream many days but then I console myself saying it will be bad for my health and you would never want that .
A MOTHER'S LOVE IS FOREVER AND EVER....

“ Dearest Maa,

It has been the most difficult month to move on without you not being here. You have left an empty void in everyone's life that you have touched.

You were always admired for your love, caring, kindness, friendliness, strength but most importantly your courage for being so independent, and how can we all forget your beautiful smile and soft spoken voice, I can hear you talking to me as I am writing. With all of these wonderful qualities you deserve the highest honor and respect for being a "Mom", a "Grandma" and a Mother-in-Law" not forgetting you as a "Person".

The question on everyone's lips was "Why You" why could GOD not take away your pains and help you to feel better and the only answer I could come up with is that GOD gets to make the final decision in everyone's lives and he knew what a fighter you are and did not want you to go thru more pain, so he decided that it was time to relieve you of your sufferings because he knew that you just would not want to lie there on the bed and cannot help yourself so that is when he said it was time to take you away and as always the best goes first.

I know you are at peace now, and no longer have any pains but you have left alot of pain in everyones' hearts especially Sheran. You would always say to me, Indira, must talk to Sheran, tell her not to worry and cry because you know how soft she is. She is very easy to cry and I don't like to see her cry.

Maa, how do I tell her to stop crying when you are no longer here, so now I am asking you to watch over her and give her the strength and courage you had so that she can go on daily to take care of herself and Ryan. You have moved on but has left us with such wonderful memories of you to last a lifetime.

MAY HANUMAN KEEP YOU UNDER HIS CARE AND LOVE ALWAYS!###imported-begin###Indira, Melbourne, FL ###imported-end##

“Agee, today is a month since you've been gone. There is an empty spot in my heart knowing that you are not with us anymore. Although, this is very difficult to get over, I know that you are with us somehow. I know that you will continue, as you always did, look out for our best interests and try to guide us down the right path. You were a very kind and generous being and you were such a delight to have around. I will never forget nor give up the moments we've shared especially since I had the boys. You used to tell me, "Vidya, like yu go take after me, I had 6 boys and then 2 girls." Devin and Dereck will never get a chance to know what it was like to have you around but I promise that I will let them know-when they're old enough, of how much you meant to me. Apart from this, I would like to extend my sympathy to all of my cha-cha's and poohwahs. If I have not expressed it earlier to all of you, I would like to say that I could never imagine this happening to me as a daughter or a son losing my mom. I know it is difficult to continue with life and go about your daily routines with losing someone so close to all of you. But Agee is in a better place right now. She is suffering no more and all we have to reflect on and to continue on is the memories and special moments that you've all shared with her.##imported-begin##Vidia Shivmangal-Dwarka##imported-end##

“ Ajee,

I love you very much. I still can't believe you are not here with us anymore, and I miss you greatly. I will ALWAYS cherish all the times we shared together, and you will always be on my mind and in my heart. Ajee, I will be eternally grateful for all the life lessons you've taught me and all the love you have given me. Your wise words have given me a sense of guidance throughout my life, and I will never forget all those long, run-on conversations we had, and all the jokes I used to play on you. lol. I talk to you all the time, as if you were sitting right beside me. Even though you can't speak back to me, I know you're listening. Before I go to sleep, I say my prayers, and you're always in them. And sometimes I catch myself daydreaming about you. Those are some of the most self-contradicting moments I have, because I'm happy that I can see you, but at the same time I'm sad because you're not there. If there's one thing I've learned from all my experiences in life, it's that God has not given us life as a reward. God has given us life as a test. All the ups and downs, all the setbacks, all the tragic occurrences, are just tests to see if you are worthy to go to heaven. And I know for a fact, that you were a strong person Ajee. You were a fighter. You never let anything overcome you. I will always look up to you because of your strong will and determination to achieve things in life. You were also a very beautiful person inside and out. So when I add up your score Ajee, I see you've passed the test with flying colors. Once again I love you and miss you very much. Thank you for everything you've done for me.

Love,

“Grandma, I miss you more than anyone else. When I come home from school there is no one to say good afternoon to, and no one that has peeled an apple for me to eat. I remember when you used to babysit me in New York you would walk to my school to pick me up and then walk home with me. I used to think you were mean because I couldn't watch T.V. all day without you stopping me. However, now I realize that you were never mean to me. I would do anything to relive the days I spent with you when I was little. The only thing I would do differently would be to enjoy every moment I had with you. I would have spent a lot more time with you when I visited New York during the holidays. When you moved here I was very excited. Then you went to the hospital and I was kind of sad, but not very because I knew you would be ok. The day you came back I was very surprised and I was very happy you could walk by yourself again. I thought you would never go back to the hospital for the rest of your life. Then one day I came home from school and no one was home, I called my mom and heard you were taken to the hospital. I was very worried until I heard you were just sick. Then you stayed in the hospitals for a long time and I was worried again. The last night I ever saw you alive I said 'Hi Grandma' and I think you mumbled 'hi' back to me. Then only a few moments later as I was watching you I started to cry and left the room, and that was the last time I would have ever saw you alive. It was also the only time I ever cried at the hospital I knew you would leave me soon. I went to sleep fine, but then around 12:00 a.m. I awoke to the sound of crying and people talking about you. At first I was confused until someone called someone else to tell them that you died. I was completely shocked I just sat there on my bed listening. Then I went out my room and cried with the others. I went to school and I didn't feel sad at all. I didn't accept the fact that you were gone. Then when I did I cried alot before I went to sleep that night although no one knew. Then right after I got a haircut I cried for well over half an hour. At the viewing of your dead body and at your funeral I couldn't cry at all. I was glad I could see you again. It was god's choice to take you and god is very smart so he must have had a very good reason to take you. I hope your having fun in heaven and I hope you are still there when I die.

“ Grandma, I miss you very much. You are the most special grandmother a grandson could ask for. I would like to take advantage of this opportunity to let everyone know just how special you are to me. To begin with, you were the only grandparent I've ever known throughout my life. You were there to take care of me while my parents were at work for eight years. I have the greatest memories of you. I remember as far back as when you used to take my sister, Christine, to her therapist. I remember how adept you were in everything you did. Whether it was cooking, cleaning, or just taking excellent care of my sister and me. I remember how lazy I was to use my keys to get in the house; I would ring the door bell and you would open the door. I must be the luckiest grandson because of the fact that I still have memories ,within my own house, of you. Your room is still there, the kitchen you used, the chair you sat on when you waited for my sister to come home, the other chair you used when you spoke on the phone, the porch you sat on when the weather was nice, and even the swing you used when you needed fresh air. Everywhere I look, I can't help but to remember you. I just wish I could have spent more time with you. I had the opportunity to come visit you last February. I regret not taking it. I didn't think that you would ever be gone. I never thought that my grandmother would leave. If I had the chance to relive those eight years, I would cherish every moment I have with you. Thank you for everthing you did for me, and all those years you spent with me. That being said, God knows best, and if it's God's decision to take you, then it must be the right decision. Everything happens for a reason. May you rest in peace.

Love always,

“ Grandma, I miss you very, very much. I wish I could see you again. Thank you for taking good care of me. You are the most special grandma in the whole world. I love you very, very much. I wish I could spend time with you, but you are in heaven. I will always talk to you everyday. When I look up in the sky, I can see you. I always know that you will be there for me and help me to hear and talk, just like you to hear and talk. You are the best grandmother I ever had in the whole world. I asked to spend my 11th birthday with you and I was lucky to have the chance to do it, but I didn't know that would be my last birthday with you. Anyway, that's God's way.

Love always, your most loving granddaughter.

“ Ma you left us heart broken especially me. I am missing you a whole lot. I pray that God gives you the most beautiful resting place and may you always watch over us and help to protect us like an angel my Mother. I know you were strong and did not want to give up Ma but God knows better than you and I. I tried my best to have you back and if there is anything I didn't do right please forgive me. You are the best mother in the whole wide world. You are one of a kind. Your memories will live with me until the end of time. Everytime I hear the word Ma, my heart skips a beat and my eyes become teary.
God Bless your soul always.
My message to all the children in the world "Do the best for your Mother like it's the last day she will be around for you never know what will happen tomorrow" Mothers are very special people and no one knows the real pain of loosing them until they witness it. Words cannot explain this.
Ma, your love and loyalty will be never forgotten, your kindness will shine bright each day and your beautiful memories will live on forever in our hearts. I miss you so much Ma.
