“ Although Bob's passing is a painful loss to all of us, the quiet aggression with which he fought his cancer was a thing to behold - a gift to us all. When he was at Don & Liz's wedding in July, he shined not as a fighter or as a cancer patient, but as a husband, traveler, brother, photographer, son, and uncle living life to the fullest. Although we knew him only briefly, he inspired us permanently.

“ To Marcia, Linda and family,

My heart aches for you all and I pray for your comfort in knowing that Bob is at home and at peace with God. He was a very special person and I am so very blessed to have had him in my life. He will always hold a very special place in my heart.

I am so thankful for our friendship that grew out of our brainstorming sessions at work. We were always trying to find new ways to be creative with video. He was an amazing and creative person. In many ways he was a mentor to me, but more importantly he was my friend.

I remember our birthday lunches we shared and all the talks we had about ourselves and our families. He was sometimes by Dear Abbey. I got to know you all through the 48 Hour Film Project and will never forget sharing the awesomeness of the Premiere Night where we watched our film on the big screen and took pics on the red carpet. I missed out on the last couple of years and for that I regret it. Time stops for no one.

Most recently, we were able to catch up at the Laughing Skull before his Birthday Roast started. I laughed and I cried that night. I am so thankful I got to hug him and catch up, but just not enough time.

I know he is looking down on us all and probably trying to figure out how he could have produced a film about this weekend's celebration of his life for the next 48 Hour Film Project.

“ I am thinking of everyone at this difficult time...I lost my mom 21 years ago the same day and Bobs memory will live on in my heart each year going forward now too. While I didn't have the chance to get to know Bob - I knew him through the relationships he had with my colleagues...such a wonderful man. Sending virtual hugs and love to all...xo

“ Bob was one of the most genuine people I have ever known. He was kind and sweet and made work days more fun with his sense of humor and positive outlook on life. My prayers will continue to be with his wonderful family whom he cherished and spoke of often. I am honored to have known Bob and will forever remember him as such a special person.

“ Marcia and family, I'm so very sorry for your loss. The first time I met Bob, I knew he was good people. He was volunteering during Career Day at school. I was fascinated to see him display his illustrative skills for the kids. Such a cool person to listen to. He'll be missed.
