I'll never forget the day I met Britt, he made such an impression on me. He was probably 21 or 22. He came in for a job interview, I saw him when he pulled up to the BMW dealership in that big orange truck. He hopped out looking like something out of Country GQ, in a big hat, scarf and a dinner platter belt buckle. What an impression he made, and we went on to work several years together. Britt was that kind of guy, one that would make an impression on you with his kindness, goodness and lovable personality. I know he has made an impression on many peoples lives as well. The world has lost a good one, you will be missed, but fondly remembered by many!

“ I didn't consider Britt my son he was my son, I loved him more than he will ever know and I will miss him terribly, but he took care of my daughter and my grandkids and made them very happy. I remember the first day I met him he come pulling up in the driveway in what I called the big orange pumpkin truck, people that remember that Truck will know what I'm talking about and that was the first time I met him, but I'll always remember him helping my daughter up the truck by lifting her up by her butt and I ask him what are you doing and he said I got to get her up in there someway😂 and he just smiled thank you Britt for all the smiles that you put on everybody's face you can rest easy now I love you son❤️❤️
