“ I have had the privilege of knowing Carol for 34 years. I came to Westminster Academy in 1984 and we shared the same office space up until she retired. Although we were too busy to talk much, there were times when we could. We had a lot in common with our kids and over the years had deep conversations about them and many spiritual conversations. I loved Carol's prayers. You knew she loved the Lord by how she prayed and pray she did. She was an inspiration to me in many ways. Always kind and gracious and tactful. We never had a cross word. I loved to watch Carol and Joe together. They were so devoted to each other and had a marriage relationship to be envied.

Jenny and I separated from our husbands the same year and really didn't know each other but Carol and Joe invited us to Sanibel that year for a long weekend. I think she felt sorry for us having lost our husbands and thought we both could be friends once we got to know each other; and friends we became - all three of us. There were many other long weekends that we were invited to Sanibel and our friendships deepened. After Carol and Joe retired from WA and moved to Georgia to be near Cathy and family, they would come down and visit me once a year on their way to Sanibel. I so looked forward to those visits. Carol and I had good talks on those visits when Joe would play golf or hit balls, and I loved having them stay with me.

I'm so sad to have lost my good friend but we know she is whole and happy to be with her Lord and we will see each other again - for eternity.

“ David Chandley with Channel 5 made a remark about Billy Graham when he went home to be with the Lord and I could not think of a more fitting tribute for the wonderful woman of God. The thunder you heard early this morning was the standing ovation in heaven for this lady, as Carol Cochenour has passed away.

Some how the scripture "well done good and faithful servant" is just not enough for this lady. I am happy that there is eternity in heaven, because it will take that long in the visitation line. She now knows by sight what we have faith in!
