“ *My deepest condolences for your loss. It is truly a blow to our hearts when we lose someone in death. It can be easy to be overcome with grief, but the Bible offers words of comfort from our loving creator, Jehovah God. Isaiah 25:8 says, "He will actually swallow up death forever, and the Sovereign Lord Jehovah will certainly wipe the tears from all faces." We certainly look forward to the time when we will no longer lose those we love in death, nor die ourselves. Until that time, however, we can put our trust in the promises found in the Bible, for we know that God "cannot lie." Titus 1:2 But how will God bring about these blessings? And what is more, when? “ I am so sorry to hear of Carol's passing. I knew her when she worked at Colonial Pipeline Company. She was a kind and compassionate person and was very conscientious and efficient in her work.

I remember she was very involved in her children and grandchildren's lives and they brought her great joy!

I know she continued to work at the Hickory House and on a rare occasion I was able to visit her when eating there. She was acquainted with my mom who periodically would see her while eating there too.

Carol was a special person and a joy to all that knew her.

It is never easy to lose a loved one. May her spirit and the love you shared bring you peace in the years to come.

With sympathy,
