“ *Charlene was married to my brother, Robert for at least 20 years. She finally had enough of his wild ways and divorced him. Robert Walker died of cancer 12 years ago. Charlene and Robert W. had two beautiful children, Glenn and Kellie. Because my son, Benton was just a little younger than Glenn and my Beth just younger than Kellie, we shared many joyful vacations together at the beach. My husband, Fred and Robert could always find ways to get into trouble together and decided one night to go skinny dipping in the ocean. Long story short, someone called the cops and they returned to the condo pretty fast. I will never forget Charlene's patient ways. She was like a sister to me. “ Years have passed by too quickly since high school, but that is where Charlene and I met, made memories and formed a close bond. In looking back at our senior year book, it reminded me of how close we were by reading the sweet message she wrote to me about us. We lost touch, life happened and now we are here. We reconnected on FB several years ago, messaged many times and always planned to get together – but it never happened. She was an awesome person; her actions and joy always reflected that. My heart breaks for Glenn, Kellie, Robert, her grandchildren and everyone she touched with her kindness. There is not enough space to say everything that needs to be said about this wonderful person. God bless you all.
