“ Toni, Ashley, Candy,

I am so sad to hear of Charles passing. When I knew your husband and father I was in my tween and teen years. As I remember back to that time I can see Charles sitting on the front porch watching me attempt to fix my bike, smiling and probably laughing a little under his breath. Having "fixed" my bike I called on Mr. Charlie to review my work. I didn't do well but, he helped me.

I can remember him telling us stories about his youth, seriously. I retell his story to this day about when he and a few of his childhood friends snuck a cigarette from a parent and the kids went out back and smoked it out of sight of the adults. They didn't get caught...

Until the kids returned to one of the homes and one of his friends sees a parent and says, "we didn't steal a cigarette and smoke it".

I'm sure Mr. Charlie told that story much better than I could. I always enjoyed listening to his stories.

I enjoyed the years we spent growing and living as neighbors. I love you all. I just want y'all to know that I know of your loss and your pain and I am so sorry for it. My greatest hope and prayer for you all is that he is now resting with his Lord and that one day you all will be together again.
