“ I met Cheri 10 yrs ago in college, and even though there was an almost 20 yr age gap, we had an instant connection. We had so many wonderful conversations in classes we had together, and we would stay after some classes every week talking & venting to one another. My relationship with my Mother is not what I wish it would be, but Cheri told me I could be her daughter since she had only boys. She became like the mom I have always wanted. We occasionally enjoyed things together, like the pumpkin patch & movies... she loved going to the movies! Her friendship & love meant so much to me, and will be something I cherish forever! I am so sad I had not seen her in a few years, but I hope she knew how much I loved her! She was such an amazing person & will be missed so much! I hope to see her sweet face again someday. All my love to the family, I am so sorry for your loss!

“ Lost love is still love. It takes a different form, that's all. You can't see their smile or bring them food or tousle their hair or move them around a dance floor. But when those senses weaken another heightens. Memory. Memory becomes your partner. You nurture it. You hold it. You dance with it.

“ Cheri and Mary Ann came to Mesa, AZ in early June of 2013 to visit my Mom (her grandmother) and Bill and I. I was able to take a trip with them to the Grand Canyon and Sedona. We had such a wonderful time and spent hours sharing our lives and memories. Cheri has joined her mom in heaven now but all of us left here on earth grieve for her loss. She was such a brave warrior as she fought that terrible cancer for almost 3 years. She is at peace now and will live on in our hearts forever.
