“ A fact few know .. Chris Stith was the official 1st runner up of the 2008(or 9) Stone Mountain Chili Cook-off Jalapeno eating contest... while living with me and my now ex boyfriend, we all happens with friends to attend the chili cook-off that weekend. A few days prior, the 3 of us "played hookie" from work so Chris could "train". Chris sat on the couch in the living room and (attempted to) eat an entire jar of jalapeños. The day of, we all drew on his "uniform" and cheered him along. ..he just barely finished 2nd. By far, my favorite "memory" of Chris Stith.

“ So many memories I can even begin to count. Chris was my best friend since middle school, I believe. We've never lost touch. Never stopped being in contact. Always been the closest of friends. I can truly say that Chris was my brother. Not just a friend. That's the last photo I had with him. I'll miss you so much, bro. My life will never be the same without you.

Chris was one of those people that was a bright light in a world of darkness. He was a lot of fun especially at our Christmas parties. Jim and I were doing work in that area, and we contacted him to join us for lunch. We had a great time sharing many stories. He will be missed by all, especially me and Uncle Jim.
