“ Dawn and Cullen, I cannot find words that would express the deep sadness I have for you. May God send an angel to be with you and give you strength for Cullen's sake...I know you are a strong woman and mother. None of us can take away the hurt. Only time...only God. We love you both!

“ My condolences for the recent loss of your loved one. It is never easy to lose one you love to death. But God gave us his Word the Bible that we may have comfort from the Scriptures. At 1 Corinthians 15:54, it says that "death will be swallowed up forever". The Bible speaks of a time where death will be no more. May we all look forward to that time where we will no longer have to lose loved ones to death. For more information, please visit jw.org##imported-begin##C.A##imported-end##

“ I am deeply saddened to hear the loss of such a great person. I got the opportunity to meet Coach Kerchner last spring, he was my son's soccer coach. I can honestly say he was the best coach he has had. His wife Dawn is such a sweet person and their son Cullen and my son Colin became friends. He will be missed and I am so sorry for your loss.##imported-begin##Brittney & Colin Lunsford##imported-end##

“ Craig was one of the best co-workers I had the opportunity to work with.

I was blessed with the time to cross paths with Craig. He lived for to be with and support his family.

Craig was definatly a guy that would give you the shirt off of his back if you needed help.

He would teach and encourage everyone to learn something they can grow in career and life.

I will miss Craig and learn from his time I spent with him.
