“ Cindy, walk with our children, Jacob & Kapri, and watch over us. I will miss you, yet I am blessed to have had you in my life. I'm so very saddened by this. May God give your family the strength they need to get through this.

“ Cyndi was one of the very best friends I have ever had. She was like a big sister to me. No matter how far a part we were, we picked up like we had spoken the day before. She taught me a lot about life, living and about myself. She helped me grow and gave me confidence. She truly helped mold me into the person I am today. Cyndi was so excited about my upcoming wedding in October. I am confident she and Kapri will have the best seat in the house. She loved her Aunt Chatterbox! Cyndi was so beautiful inside and out. I will never forget her. I am so blessed that I got to be a part of her life for as long as I did.. Prayers to you..

“ *Mr. Lawrence and Family,
Our most heartfelt sympathies to you. We were so sorry to hear that Mrs. Lawrence had passed. It was just unthinkable, speaking with her not long ago and having an energized conversation then getting the phone call with shocking news there would be no more conversations, calls or visits. She was such an energetic, passionate, sweet and fiesty person with a lovely spirit! Mrs. Lawrence will be truly missed! We are thankful that we got to know her over the last 2 years. This is a sudden, hurtful loss for you but know that she is in a beautiful place where there is no strife, misery, suffering or stress. The memories of your time together and her legacy live on through you. We pray that they will carry you through the days ahead and this dark moment.*

*Keeping you in our thoughts and prayers,

She was always so proud of her family and we talked often about how much she loved her husband and her children. It breaks my heart this that this ray of sunshine is no longer shining. “ My Beautiful Wife!!!

The post was cut off so wanted to finish it.

*I remember all the talks we had. Her telling me about all her friends. Never will forget her stories of all the silly and crazy things she done. Cyndi would tell me about how her mom worked so hard to give Cyndi and her brother Jay the best. She was so proud of her mom. Cyndi knew how proud her mom was of her for all she has done and for all her accomplishments. Cyndi and was so happy! We had some hard times, she knew we would make it through. All of our goals and plans were dropping right into place. Cyndi and was well on our way to reaching our dreams. It's going to be so hard to go forward with our plans without her by my side. I know she would want me to continue to make all those dreams and goals come true. I loved her more than anything. I learned so much from her about love. Everyday the girls and I will miss Cyndi but we know what she would want. So we will be strong for her and do what she wants. We know she is safe with Kapri and that Cyndi is Happy where she is. In heaven hand in hand with her daughter Kapri. " Cyndi, you know how much I love you and the girls loved you. We will miss you so much. We know we can always talk with you anytime. “ I met Cyndi when she was in Delaware at Nurses N Klds for Kapri. We were close friends and she worked with me for the State of Delaware in special education. My son Joseph and Kapri both went to Nurses N Kids and to the same childrens' hospital and they saw many of the same specialists. I spent many hours on the cardiac unit with Kapri and Cyndi. We always laughed Kapri and Joseph coordinated their hospitalizations so that when one was finished the other went in but never simultaneously. I didn't keep up with her as I should have. She was a great comfort to me when Joseph, my son, passed away 2 years ago this past Thursday. She was a dear friend to me and she was very dear to my mother as well. I know Joseph, Kapri and my mother were among the many to greet Cyndi and welcome her Home. It is a terrible loss for all of us left behind. I feel so lost and can't imagine how we will go on. Many prayers for peace and strength for your loss.

“ My sweet baby girl. I am so lost without you. You were my best friend, my confidante, and my precious daughter. I was so very proud of the person you had become, the mother you were to both your girls and especially the fact of just how much you shared your love with Michael's girls. I remember a long time ago when your baby sister was born I explained to you that there are no steps or half in our family. You took that to heart and ran with it. So Michael's girls became your girls. You always wanted a big family and you had one that also included your friend and coworkers. You never met a stranger and blesses everyone you met with your beautiful smile, sparkling eyes and an open heart. I thank god for giving you to me even if it was for this short time. I know you are in heaven holding Kapri with my mom and dad standing by your side. Until we see each other again, thank you for being my wonderful daughter and thank you for loving me. I love you my precious child.

“ My BEAUTIFUL wife Cyndi. When we met we had this connection like no other. We shared so many hopes and dreams. I could not take my eyes off of her. From the first day we talked I had butterflies. My heart would melt. Everyday those feelings grew. I had never felt such a love. What I loved about Cyndi was everything from head to toe. Everyday my mind is consumed with thoughts of her. Any time I had a bad day I would think of her and know I was loved. No matter what she could always make me feel so awesome. I could not wait to get home to see her. I would rush home just to say have a good day and grab me a kiss, as she was going to work and me getting in from work. I would stay up half the night as she worked getting her reports done planning the next move in she would get. I could not go to sleep until she was done and we both could lay down and hold each other. I slept so good having her in my arms. I loved all the talks we would have. Sharing both of our day dreams. Every time she came home or was near me all those heart melting feelings came over me. I don't believe there was a stronger love than what Cyndi and I share. We had our rough times, but we both knew our love could not be broke. I loved to look into her eyes and see how we looked at each other. Cyndi's smile would make any hard days be better. Cyndi and I took many trips enjoying the sights and just being together. We loved holding hands just driving down the road or walking in the store. We were always hand in hand. I could always walk with my head held high holding her hand wanting to say to everyone look at me. Look at me beautiful wife. I loved to lay in bed and watch her sleep knowing what a prize I had been given. I know I am the the luckiest man alive to have a love like this. To be loved by Cyndi. Cyndi and I both loved to see our kids so happy. We made it a point to always spend time with them. We loved taking them places. We lived to give our kids the best. Not always gifts and everything they wanted (but almost) just wanted them to be happy have fun and most if all see them smiling. Cyndi was so proud of our kids. Each one in different way. Cyndi was so amazed how each one had there own personalities and how each one viewed things. She loved each one so much it was her passion to be with them as much as possible. Laughing at all the silly things they would do. Cry with them be strong with them. There is nothing she would not do for them. She tried so hard to give as much as she could to our kids. It made her so happy to be able to do the things she had always wanted. Rebecca, Adyson, and Abigail was her life. She worked so hard to get where she was, to be able to do all the things we did. That was her drive to reach her goals to be able to give the best life to our kids. There was no stronger love than hers. Cyndi love what she did. Working with seniors was a huge part of her life. The way she touched their lives is so amazing. I have never seen someone have the kind of impact on people as Cyndi did. All of her residents loved her. They love talking with her. Even bringing their problems to her, because they knew she would get things done. If she missed a day in the building, the next day there would be a line of seniors waiting to talk to her. Cyndi worked so hard to get where she was in her career. Cyndi was so happy with her job. For what she was doing. Even when they wanted her to do things that did not make sense she done it. She would work so many hours to get the job done. She liked to do things her way. Cyndi was so proud to have gotten the job she had. She had finally been given the chance to show what she could do. There was no one better. She made herself an asset to them. They were so lucky to have her. She was always worried if she was doing enough. I knew and told her everyday, "Cyndi Hoiliday Retierment knows what they have. They know how important your are no can match what you do!" I know there wasn't any one that could do what she does. I know Cyndi was on her way to the TOP!!!! I was so proud of her for everything she was doing.
