“ I have so many fond memories of Darren. He had the quickest wit. We worked in a maintenance environment we like to tease each other. Nobody could say anything to Darren that he couldn't provide a super funny snappy comeback. What I will miss most is all of his animal rescues. If there was a snake near a school his instinct wasn't to kill, but relocate. If there were baby possums missing a mom, he would take them in until they were ready for the world. He truly loves all of God's creatures. He loves his family most of all. He was a great man. I feel lucky to know him and his family.
