“ Dave was a wonderful man, husband, father, and grandfather who went to a more peaceful place a few days ago. His spirit lives on in all those he came into contact with during his life and we are all better people because of that. He loved his grand children and I am very thankful he got to see them grow into young adults who will always hold their memories and times with their granfather close in their hearts. While we will all miss him, it was wonderful to see everyone join in the celebration of his life on Monday. Thank you to everyone who has taken the time and made the effort to comfort his wife and daughters during this difficult time. It gives me some reassurance that there are still good people in the world who make a difference in other peoples lives just like Dave did.

Dave,

Old Installation Friends NOT Forgotten

*When I was young I ran cable, wired and did some test,
Shoulder to shoulder with some of the best.
We were transferred around the country high and low
And had a blast everywhere that we did go.*

*Over the years a promotion I would receive,
And not the company or a person did I deceive.
I made the company a buck or two,
And I did my best to help my crew.*

*After many years I would throw in my hat,
And give up the position from where I sat.
Upon retiring, up the road I went,
And did some reflecting on the time I had spent.
Most of my friends did the same,
Returning to the place from whence they came.*

*Across this country I have many friends,
In this great land that has no ends,
My old friends' faces I never see,
For I am as busy as can be.*

*The days fly by and the weeks rush on,
Before I know it another year is gone.
I hope they know I care just as well,
As in the days when we would take a drink,
And raise a little hell.*

*We were much younger then and oh the jokes,
And now we are much older, tired folks.
Tired of playing a foolish game.
Tired of trying to make a name.*

*Tomorrow, I will call on them,
To let them I still think they're a gem.
But tomorrow comes and tomorrow goes,
And time just grows and grows.*

*Just down the road - yet far away,
The phone rings, one of my friend died today,
That's what we get and deserve in the end,
Down the road, a vanished friend.*

*If someone means a lot you, let them know,
Remember, tomorrow, they may be the to go.
If you linger for long, it may be too late,
So I recommend, not to hesitate.*

*Seize the day and have no regrets.
Your friends and family are the one that hedged your bets,
They made you the person you are today,
And they are what it's all about, anyway!!*

*This rhyme might be a little rough from a scholars' view,
But for an old Installer out of his environment it will just have to do.
Its' purpose is to be a reminder of important things along the way, and for us not to squander another day.*

*I will be an Installer 'til the end,
Enjoyed the job and my friends.
I may not be able to visit or give all of you call,
Just wanted to say thanks - for all the good memories.*

*Rest in peace Dave my friend, the pain is over.
Find us a good BBQ Place*

“ David was a very close friend of mine. He will be remembered as a person who loved God and his country. He was one of the greatest technical resources that I ever knew in the telephone industry. He was the type person to listen carefully to issues from others and to give sound advise. I will miss him greatly! I am grieved to hear of his death. May God bless Linda and their children.

“ David was like a brother to me. He was one of those people that would listen to a person and rapidly be able to either give advice or a consoling word. We spent a lot of time working together for the Teletech Company at Stockbridge, Georgia. He was one of the greatest technical resources in the telephone industry and a good manager of people. Dave was a member of the generation of people that loved God and our country. Dave was loved by all who knew him! I look to being with Dave in Heaven!
