

Deborah Baker Palmer

December 6, 1953 - July 17, 2023

Deborah Baker Palmer died peacefully in her sleep at her residence in Dacula on Monday, July 17, 2023, at the age of 69. She is survived by her husband of 40 years Dennis, her daughters Lindsey, Katherine and her husband Andy, her step grandsons Drew and Wesley and her grandchildren Kimber and Lawson. She was born Deborah G. Baker, the youngest of five siblings in Needham, Massachusetts at Glover Hospital. She attended Needham High School where she graduated in 1972. Deborah continued her education at the University of Massachusetts Amhurst with a bachelor's degree in education in 1976. Deborah moved to Georgia in 1978 and started her teacher career in Gwinnett County at Arcado Elementary. She earned her Master and specialist degree as she continued to teach for 38 years. She was retired for 5 years before her death. Her nickname was sweet Debbie Baker and that is who she was, a sweet, caring, loving, genuine person that always put others before herself. She will always be loved and missed but she will never be forgotten.

Now Now Now

Now is the time to mend a broken heart

Now Now Now

Now's the time I pick up the broken parts

I love you Bake

“ I have many fond memories of Sweet Debbie Baker. The many Christmas parties at the Palmer home, putting up with all us crazy musicians and martial arts classes in the basement, and the one-on-one moments we shared where I saw what a sweet and kind soul she is. Until we meet again.

What a beautiful tribute to Debbie. I taught with her for many years. She was a caring well-loved teacher and as we saw in the tribute, always smiling. She will be missed.

“ Debbie was the sweetest person, always loving and very caring. She will be forever missed. Enjoyed the conversations with Debbie. Hearing about her grandchildren, her shopping trips and all the updates in her life. Debbie knew how to love and show it. We will see Debbie in heaven.
