“ While my heart is so heavy with the loss of Deb for her family and her boys, I know she is in the arms of Jesus with no pain or suffering. While going through her own battle she provided such strength and comfort to me as my husband was going through his brain surgeries. She so loved her boys and family. I will always remember her courage and strength and will miss her.##imported-begin##Carrie (King) Bozeman##imported-end##

“ I am so sorry to read about Deb's passing. We worked together in Nursing Administration at GMC when she first started working part time and recall her being pregnant both times. Such a sweet, loving woman. I know she will be missed by so many people, In the event you are interested and when the time is right I know of several places that provide support for grieving children. My son passed almost two years ago and I take my granddaughter and it has really helped her. Please feel to contact me. God bless you, the boys and all your family.
