“ I love you my sister! ALS stole your voice, ability to eat and caused you much suffering. In Heaven you are singing with the angels and feasting at the table with Jesus, mama, daddy, Neesie, Steve and so many that went on before us. I will miss you here but have the promise of seeing you again soon! I am so thankful that you are not suffering anymore! I love you my precious sister! Dorinda (Sissy as you called me)

“ There are just no words. You were my best friend, sister and confident. We survived our craziness only by the grace of God! There is no one I know that had a bigger heart than you, You were always quick with a sweet word or compliment.

Mom has Alzheimer now, but she recognized you when I showed her your picture, which is amazing as she doesn't know me some days. Dads memory is of you calling him your second dad. I'm sure we drove our parents crazy!

I know that Allison and your granddaughters were your whole world and the light of your life. They are beautiful just like you and will survive because of the spirit you instilled in them.

I love you and will miss you my sweet friend, but I know that I will see you again.

“ You were the best grandma I could ever ask for. I will always be your sidekick and best friend. I am happy you are not suffering anymore and you get to see my grandpa and your mom and dad. One day I can see you again and I can give you a hug because I never got to when you were at the hospital. Now you are more healthier than me! Love you nana!

“ Nana,
*Losing you put a dent in my heart and a weight on my soul, when you passed a peice of me did too. You were my guiding light and like my second mother.
Heaven had no idea what it was about to get blessed with on December 5th 2020, a wonderful mother, wife, grandmother, sister, and best friend. Your voice was like a goddess to the human ears and your soul was the kindest you could find, you cared for your grandchildren as if they were your own and loved us unconditionally. When I had no one in school and got put down by others you were there to be my angel and raise me back up. No matter the distance no matter the day i will always be eto nanas baby I'm your baby girl. Stay beautiful you Nonwiltering Rose.
-Much love Your best friend and granddaughter Jaden.*

“ Mom there are not words to describe the dark void that losing you has created. You were our light. I know I'll see you again one day, but that's just not enough right now. I miss you so much. I will carry you with me in my heart until God calls me home too one day. I know dad is so excited to see the love of his life again and to be able to hold you in his arms. Soulmates reunited and that is so beautiful. You were like he said one of the most beautiful women in this world, but even so you were even more beautiful inside. You had a heart of gold. You were and are the best mother I could have ever asked for. Until we meet again in our fathers home. I love you my mama. Love Nunie
