Shortly thereafter in the year of 1938 they moved to Thomasville, GA where Del grew up and entered high school. While there, he ran a paper route. After high school he worked for Coats & Clarke Thread Company and then on to the Air Force. The day he received his papers for discharge he also received papers to cadet school. He chose discharge but continued his radar skills with the FAA. Thirty four years, eleven months and twenty nine days later he retired to the introduction of the carnival world when he married Lisa Loveda McNair. He never dreamed of being a father but became one about 5 years into marriage to a handsome little one named after both, Del McNair Hargrove, known as Mac. Del loved flying. He had rather sit in an airplane than eat when hungry. He opened a maintenance and flying school called Misty Aviation in Hampton, GA where he met Lisa. Both loved flying later marrying (7 years later) on to carnival then to finish up being the main zookeeper for Camp Carousel of which he owned numerous animals - a very colorful life. Del was preceded in death by almost all of his family. Surviving are his loving wife, Lisa; son, Mac; what seems like a daughter, Dawn Norton; nephew Timmy Hargrove and his wife, Karen; niece Stephanie Gonzales; numerous extended family but mostly friends.
