“ I just heard of Dennis' passing. We met 23 years ago when I worked for Gwinnett County Public Utilities reviewing DCG's plans. Dennis was a leader in the consulting community and we had many talks about stormwater management and land development. I appreciated his perspective and leadership. When he moved to the City of Lawrenceville during the recession, we met again, with our roles reversed. Rest in peace, Dennis and my condolences to his family.

“ I am really sorry to hear of Dennis' passing. I first met Dennis 21 years ago when I came to work for him, fresh out of college. I worked there for 8 years and really enjoyed the experience. Dennis was more than an employer to me, he was one of my mentors and taught me about land planning, development, and about life in general. I was sad to leave at the beginning of the recession, but I would continue to call him and visit from time to time. I really enjoyed the last time I visited him. I'm glad his advise finally sunk in and I was able to relax and be myself. That was probably one of the best conversations we had. Rest in peace, my friend...

“ Our hearts are so sad. Uncle Dennis was truly the most kind-hearted and generous man. His brother Dale, my Dad, passed away 25 years ago but I always still felt a connection to him through Uncle Dennis. My husband, Lewis, also loved Uncle Dennis and they had a great friendship. My boys learned to swim in Uncle Dennis' & Aunt Nancy's pool when they were just babies and spent many summers there. His home and his heart was always open and inviting and we will miss him dearly.

“ I worked for/with Dennis for about 10 years. During that time I got to know him well. He made me feel like family and made it personal. He helped me through a very rough time in my life and I will never forget him and his kindness. He mentored me at the end of DCG in my next career step. I won't forget us standing at the front door of DCG June 16th 2009 saying goodbye. We were the last 2 there. I appreciate him and all he was. He will be missed. So sorry for your loss.

“ I met Dennis and Nancy about 15 years ago in a bit of an awkward fashion. I began dating Ruthie who was the widow of Dennis's brother Dale. When we were first invited over for a cookout, it would probably have been more comfortable for me to avoid the situation (you know, act like I was sick or something) but I knew how important it was for Ruthie to maintain that relationship. I didn't expect much since I was the outsider who was related to nobody in a family that was related to everybody. It didn't take long to realize how loving and caring both Dennis and Nancy were to everyone. I was always welcomed with open arms to parties for every occasion, Saturday morning breakfasts, afternoons at the pool, etc. Dennis seemed to dedicate all his time and energy to serving people in whatever way he could. He loved to set out lavish breakfasts for anybody who showed up at his house, cook on the grill as long as it took to feed everybody who wandered in, and just wear himself out making sure everybody was happy.

Dennis and Nancy never made me feel like an outsider and treated me like family from the day I met them. We ended up buying a home on the next street from them!

Dennis was an amazing, loving and thoughtful man who will be sorely missed by everybody who knew him. I know I already do.

“ What a kind soul. I meet him through his visits at Precision Planning, I'm the receptionist, he was always so kind, and had a smile on his face. He always wore vests and he knew I liked them and would tell me he wore this one today for me. He will be missed greatly, and I pray for the family as they deal with this loss.

“ Dennis was a very close friend. We had many heart to heart talks about this life and the next. For me, many times, Dennis was a calm voice in a storm. It is hard for me to think about Dennis not being Nancy; I haven't seen you in ages. Didn't know Dennis that well, but Dale was a teammate and good friend, and I did spend time with the Billew family. My sympathies.
