“ I met Don when he began working at Vickery Creek Elementary School. Somehow when we were introduced, I missed his name, and proceeded to call him "purple pick-up truck music man" in my head until someone told me that they thought his name was "Donovan". It makes me laugh to think about it! My favorite Don joke was one he made when we were working together at Brookwood, where I was lucky enough to work with him again. He had an interaction with a man who had gotten remarried to a woman who did not have the most wonderful personality, to say the least. Don's comment of "If that's his trophy wife...he did NOT win first prize!" makes me think of him every time somebody says "trophy wife". Even now, I'm laughing just thinking about it. Don, you will be missed, and now you will always have perfect vision. I hope that you know how much you were loved, and my many sympathies to your family,
Suzy B.

“ My daughter Vayda is a student at Loganville Elementary. She adores Mr. Evans and really enjoyed his music class. She talks about him often. She told me about his wittiness and that he often goes around singing "The Cat Came Back" ... which we both thought was so funny! He will be missed and remembered.

“ He was an absolutely amazing friend and band mate. We spent several years running around the southeast. Shared stages with artists like The Lynn's, Loretta Lynn's daughters back in the late 90's. He had a joy that was infectious and always seemed to know when something was wrong with you. He had the insight of a teacher. He chose his words carefully to insure that he remained positive. He has the heart of a servant, indeed. That's the way someone who loved Christ lives. I will see you brother and make sure you play one for me with that great band in heaven. I can hear you now :)

“ I will never ever forget all the rides to school you gave to Jane and I. Everyone knew you were coming when you blew your "Ahooga" horn you had on your car. All the serenades of that Conway Twitty song you relentlessly sang. You were truly a loved and respected friend and neighbor. Go rest high on that mountain, D.W. Your work on earth is done. And, I have no doubt whatsoever your Father in Heaven will say, "Well done my good and faithful servant". Deepest sympathies to your family and praying they may find comfort.

“ I sincerely hope Don Evans' family will read these messages and take comfort from them. High School kids who were influenced by him are blowing up Instagram and Snapchat with tributes and chatter about how much they loved Mr. Evans. I did not know Mr. Evans personally very well, but I remember the profound impact he had on children at Brookwood Elementary. My son was in the first Kindergarten class at Brookwood, and my wife was heavily involved with the school and the PTA during his time there. I have no doubt that Mr. Evans and his infectious enthusiasm for music made a lasting, positive impact on my son, who is 16 now. He is the reason my son gained deeper interest in music of all kinds. He is the reason we have a room full of unusual musical instruments. He is one the reasons my son has a place to "belong" in the marching band and drumline during his middle school and high school years. This is so important beyond just music and marching band. I am sure I represent many other parents who have this same story to share. We will always remember Mr. Evans' sense of humor, his dedication to his craft, and his ability to make anyone feel welcome in his presence. Godspeed Mr. Evans. I am sure you will be greatly missed by your friends and family, but your mark on the world of so many children and families is inarguably positive and permanent. Thank you.

I stood beside him on stage many times and indeed he was an amazing joy to call band mate and friend.

Yes, we are reading all of the comments, and crying with joy that his memory will last even longer through his influence. Music was his way to share joy and Christ, and he lived that to the fullest. Thank you so much for sharing your kind words.

“ Don and I went to school together at Alabama Christian College, played in a band and traveled all over the southeast playing music on weekends. I'll never forget his sense of humor, quick wit, and his love for music. Don was a devoted Christian man and a good friend.

“ Don had such a warm personality. I only worked with him briefly at Stone Mountain Park, but his friendliness and quick wit will always be remembered. He and I talked a lot about his banjo playing days. Well Don, now you can play your banjo as much as you'd like for the Angels in Heaven. Rest well, friend.

“ I had the pleasure of working with Don at FCS. His easy-going nature, smile, and sense of humor were just some of his enduring qualities. I will always remember how Don loved to take part in dressing up for any special school occasion, which would inevitably make others smile. I included some of those photos on this site. Rest in peace, Don. You will be missed!
