“ Along with being a coworker for over 20 years, Donald was a trusted friend! Among his many qualities, my favorite is the fact that he had an uncommon amount of common sense! He also had the unique ability that when he told me that I was making a mistake (which happened often!), he did it in a way that not only did not make me mad or defensive, but ended with me laughing at my own error. And he was never, ever wrong about what he was correcting. To Donald's family my sincerest condolences and prayers. Especially to Adam, know that you are not alone in this great loss, and that I pray that God over time will show you his special blessing of love and strength to help you on your life journey. To the best sprinkler foreman I ever knew - Rest in Peace Duck!
