“ Donna is my father's younger sister but she is so much more than just my aunt. I remember a teenage Donna who held my hand and took me to my first day of school with her sister Sally because my mom was no longer in the picture. I remember Donna the tour guide because when I moved from Pa. to Arizona, I rode with Donna, Ed, and a beautiful little toddle named Denise. Donna pointed out all the beautiful and interesting places that she had seen before. I remember Donna the teacher who I was fortunate enough to spend an entire summer in Westminster, Ca. and she showed me places and wonders that I had never seen before. Through all of these years, she was always Donna the friend with whom I could confide anything and share the journey of my life. She was one of the most strong, resilient, yet compassionate people that I have ever known. I will miss our conversations and her laughter but if I ever need to see her, I only need to look upon the faces of her beautiful children. " For the garden she planted, still is quite young and the songs she sang will still be sung." Bob Snodgrass Jr.
