DOUGLAS M. SKIPPER, "SKIP"

Douglas M. Skipper, "Skip," age 89, formerly of Clarksville, Tennessee, died July 17, 2012, in Atlanta, Georgia, after a long respiratory illness. Born in Providence, Kentucky, he was a veteran of World War II. He is survived by his wife of 65 years (Rayma Carnal Skipper), two daughters (Donda Skipper and Letitia Kennedy), and a grandson (Chase Skipper). A son, Douglas M. Skipper, Jr. (also known as Skip), preceded him in death. He is also survived by his sister- and brother-in-law (Sherry and Jim Davis), along with nieces and nephews. He was a Doctor of Chiropractic in Russellville, Kentucky, for 20 years before moving to Clarksville, where he opened a maintenance service. Skip will be missed in his role of loving husband, father, grandfather, and friend. A memorial service will be held on Wednesday, July 25, 2012, at Little West Fork Baptist Church, 201 Britton Springs Road, in Clarksville, Tennessee, at 2:00 p.m. with Rev. Kim Allen officiating.
