“ i wish you were here to meet your great-great-grand baby, but i know you sent them to me. i hope i can be half of the mother that you were to me. i remember doing puzzles together and making arts and crafts, and i am looking forward to doing the same with mine. thank you for teaching me what it was to be a mother. i miss you so much and i love you forever.

“ i know it's a little past your birthday, but i just wanted to wish you a happy birthday. we missed you so much and wish you could've been here to celebrate. you were always so selfless, even on the one day that is supposed to be about you. you were the perfect great-grandmother. i love you so much, and i hope Elvis sang you happy birthday this year.

“ i miss you grandma. you were always there and ready to love us. i miss when we used to dance together on the porch or ride bikes together. i miss it all and wish we could do it again, but i am happy you are not in pain anymore. no one will ever amount to who you were as a person on this earth that you were too good for. we were all so lucky to have you, even if we didn't show you as much as we should have. i love you so much and you will always be in my heart. i will see you on the other side one day.

“ I will always think of Frances when I see a glue gun, scissors or cereal box! The glue and scissors is because she was a master crafter and could create something beautiful out of any material. The cereal box is because I never saw Frances without a box of Froot Loops nearby. I will miss her and her beautiful smile!!
