I had the pleasure of working around Mr. Briscoe when I was a merchandiser at spring street. When I was afraid I hadn't ordered enough of something for a store I would load up some in my company vehicle and Mr Brisco would hand-write me an invoice. That was in my wilder days and Mr Briscoe would laugh, make fun of and pick at me. I loved that! He would say that he was once a "hell raiser" to, and that he decided "get right with the lord". I didn't know that he was so involved in the church. I loved that old man and I believe that he really believed in the content that was preached in his church. He was definitely a good man!

“ I will always be grateful that I was Christy Fe to uncle William. I loved to hear him laugh!! He was such a mess and that grin just made me smile. I love the example he set on going to church and fighting the good fight, right up till the end! BUT what I loved most about him was that he couldn't pray OR talk about his family without crying 😭 there was such a sensitive place in his heart for Jesus and his family 💙 I know he is walking those streets of gold with his sweet Janice and his mama 😭 which we all miss dearly!! Love u uncle William, the Briscoe's lost a piece of what made our family great! 🙏💙😭
