“ You were my biological father. I have two younger sisters that were also produced by you and my mother. You left us when I was six years old. As a child all I remember of you was you coming home drunk and tearing the house, my granddaddy built for us, up in fits of rage. All i ever wanted in my life was to have a dad that loved me that I could have a father son relationship with. I never had that with you cause you were the most selfish self centered person I have ever met. I hope somewhere in your life you found the love of God and you are in Heaven. I hope Jesus told you how much pain and grief a child suffers from growing up in a broken home without a daddy that loves them. Its my duty as a Christian to forgive and forget, Im so sorry that we could never share the bond that a father and son should have and I hope you received Jesus and are looking down from the balconies of heaven.
