Born in Indiana but grew up on Lake Lanier, Greg spent his childhood in the water, where he first learned to swim and developed a lifelong bond with the lake. Throughout his life, he frequently returned to those familiar waters, finding joy in the quiet patience of fishing and the freedom of being out on a boat. A man of great endurance and appreciation for the natural world, Greg was an avid hiker who found solace and challenge on the Appalachian Trail and riding his Goldenwing. His love for exploration extended to the open road; after a dedicated 30-year career as a truck driver with Frito-Lay, he spent his retirement years on the water of Lake Lanier, fishing. He especially loved the vast landscapes of the American West. He is remembered for his hardworking spirit, his love for the outdoors, and the steady rhythm of a life well-lived.
