“ Anna, you were so fortunate to have been the main love in Jerry's life for 38 years. You have been so good to him while he was ill, and we know how difficult your role has been yet you did it without complaint. It's time for you to take a well deserved time for yourself and remember the good times. When you are ready or need to, I have some great books that you may want to read. We found them quite helpful to know we were not the only surviving spouses that felt they were all alone Heb 13:5.- God will never forsake you or leave you.!! You wil not be alone.##imported-begin##Beverly Ball##imported-end##

“ Death is a reality we all face. It is an appointment we will not miss. What matters is to be prepared for it and to know where we are going when we leave this world. For people like Jerry, the best is yet to come when we depart this life. No wonder Paul the apostle said, "For to me, to live is Christ and to die is gain." (Philippians 1:21)

Anna, our hearts go out to you and the family who are left behind to suffer the pain of separation. Please remember the good Jerry did and the wonderful 38 years you shared with him. May God give you a special measure of his comfort. Ours prayers continue for your family.

God bless you!
