“ Dear Long Family,

We are still heartbroken over the home going of John. You are in thoughts and prayers daily. I will always remember him and the little talks we had. May God give you all comfort, peace, strength and "New Grace" in the days ahead.

Although I can't make it on Saturday, I will be there in spirit with arms around each of you. God will "Carry" you all through until you see him again.

“ *So sorry for you and your daughters, Mary. His family here at Piedmont is heart-broken, also. He was much more than a co-worker. He touched so many lives here. All of us felt reassured when John was working. Most of the times when you placed a call to Stat Team, he would come bounding up the corridor while you were still on the phone with him. His help was invaluable. So was his friendship. I'll miss your smile and the laughter we shared, John. Love,

“ Mary, You and John were two of my first friends when I moved to Atlanta. That friendship evolved over the years to where we became family. I ache to think of a world without Johns light in it. Love, Chris Q.
