

Johnny Ray Portwood Sr.

June 4, 1953 - August 16, 2024

Johnny Ray Portwood, Sr., age 71 of Oxford, GA, passed away on Friday, August 16, 2024. Born on June 4, 1953 in Selma, Alabama, Johnny was a respected and self-made businessman, known for founding Portwood Tile. His dedication to his craft in tile work left a significant mark on both his community and industry.

Johnny was a passionate sports fan, often spending his time cheering for Alabama football, the Atlanta Braves, the Atlanta Falcons, and watching NASCAR races. This enthusiasm for sports was just one of the many ways he connected with friends and family, sharing joyous and spirited moments.

He leaves behind a loving family, including his daughter, Amanda Mitchem; son-in-law, Matthew Mitchem; son, Johnny Ray Portwood, Jr.; granddaughter, Cameron Mitchem; and grandson, Hayden Portwood, all from Monroe, GA. He is also survived by his brother, Bobby Rodewig of Walnut Grove, GA; and sister, Brenda Mayfield. Johnny was preceded in death by his father, William Luther Portwood, mother, Della Mae Roberts; grandmother, Wincie Roberts; brothers, Scott Rodewig and Mike Portwood.

The Portwood family has entrusted Tim Stewart Funeral Home in Loganville, GA, with the arrangements. Johnny's memory will be cherished by his numerous relatives and all who knew him. His legacy in both his personal and professional life will undoubtedly be remembered by many.

Tribute Wall

“ Helen James lit a candle in memory of Johnny Ray Portwood Sr. ”

Helen James - August 21, 2024 at 11:48 AM

Thanks

Amanda Mitchem - August 22, 2024 at 09:12 PM