“ So hard to say good bye to a dear friend. We worked together, and back in the day we partied together. Loads of laughs and good time. As we matured we shared our faith. She came to Bible studies and Christmas teas with me. For years the January girls celebrated our birthdays together. Joyce's talent for making jewelry, provided me with treasured pieces to remember her by. Rest easy my friend, I'll see you again one day.

“ Joyce was always such a pleasure to be around. She was funny and kind. It was always nice to see her during the holidays at Joan's house. She always asked about my family and genuinely cared about people.
