“ I met Linda at the laundromat at the Americana apartments when my husband Don and had just moved to Florida. I knew immediately we would be friends. She was so kind. Always upbeat and smiling. There was no way you could not like Linda. She was so much fun to be around. Don and I both shared a true love for Linda and John. Rest in peace good friend.

“ True friends are the ones who never leave your heart. Today I miss her so much that no words can express how I feel. Our friendship has given me some of the most treasured memories of my heart. Thank you for always being there no matter what. To my kooky friend that always knew how to have good time. Cheers to the Hiawatha Gang! 💕💕💕
