“ Yesterday a Facebook memory came up of one of our preschool field trips. It was a good one filled with laughter! I went to hit “share” and tag you with a note. That moment hit like a brick. I also came across a video of you and your snowmen at preschool. The kids adored you! We always laughed about growing old in a nursing home and causing mischief of one kind and another You have left me with so many wonderful memories. I’m keeping a piece of you in my heart and soul for the rest of my journey here. Until we meet again....
