“ I was told one day after you had finally taken your last breath that you had gone up to sit next to the Lord and receive your beautiful angel wings. I don't even know where to begin writing this because there are so many wonderful things that I could say. You've been such a blessing in my life, and I thank the Lord every day that he blessed me with such an amazing, beautiful woman in my life. Not only were you a role model to me but you were someone that so many people looked up to. You were a daughter, a mother a friend but to me, you were an amazing aunt. We have always seen Eye 2 Eye and there are times when I have questioned, if you were doing the right thing, not for anyone else around you but for yourself. There have been so many times that I watched you sit in pain and cry, and I feel like nobody could do anything to help you, but I know that deep within your heart, you were asking God for guidance and strength to get you through those moments that you were going through that were the hardest. And that is what I'm doing right now is asking God to get me through with guidance and strength to help me know that you're not in pain anymore. And Linda, you are one of the best things that has ever happened in my life. We have shared so many memories, laughter, and fun, the list is abundant. You've always been in my corner cheering me on no matter what. No matter what life hands us whether it be good whether it be bad you've always had your boxing gloves on ready to fight. I always remember little trips that we would take when I was younger, and we were in Georgia. Also, the trips that we would take when you would visit us in Washington. One of the greatest moments that I remember is when you came up for my high school graduation and you guys went out to Muckleshoot and you called saying that you had won a huge jackpot, and we said what do you mean? What are you talking about? There's no way and you said yes, I won $20,000. You know I look back on it and I know that it happened to you for a reason just like I believe everything in this world happens for a reason. I know it's not going to be easy for me, nor is it going to be easy for our family, but I know that you are watching over us, you will give us signs when you are here. You are always watching over me. I love you with all of my heart. I just know there's never a day that goes by that you are not thought of and you will be forever in my heart.

“ I am Rosie Laky, Linda’s sister. Linda is from a family of 10.

Thank you to all those present today & all the family, friends, and supporters who are unable to attend but are here in spirit and prayer.

Although this is an unfortunate circumstance and only one of many days of mourning, let us not be filled with tears of sadness, but let us be filled with tears of joy so that we can cherish a beautiful angel’s life.

God understands you can’t see much of anything beyond your pain today. But as you continue walking the journey of grief, your sight will improve and you will be able to see

Sometimes in life, we don’t expect things to happen when they do, however, we must remember that God has other plans that we cannot understand this side of heaven. If we turn to the Lord and pray for guidance and wisdom for the future, He will guide us and comfort us.

Linda’s faith in the Lord was evident and I believe that her extended time on this earth after her diagnosis was due in part for her to have the opportunity to make amends with her family. My prayer is that this occurred. Family is the most important thing in life. Life is not for the faint of heart and can sometimes be rough, bumpy, and messy. Love and forgiveness are essential. And in case you don’t know, God allows second chances, even third or fourth chances, so please don’t give up on yourself and don’t give up on Him.

Linda was a quite reserved person, however deep down she loved her family. All of the time that Linda has been able to spend with me and my siblings has been a big blessing to us. We know this is not the end of the story we will see each other again in heaven until then we will miss you, we love you and you will be forever in our hearts.

Let us take a moment and close our eyes in remembrance of my dear sister.

I would like to take this opportunity to thank Sherrie for stepping up and taking care of her mother during her last moments on this earth. Sherrie, you did an excellent job and I appreciate you taking charge.

I would also like to thank Betty for all she has done for our family during this time of sorrow.
