“ Dear Shin/Domoleczny family,

As I attempt to write this, I'm trying to see my words through the blur of my tears.

I remember about 20 years ago I was invited and warmly welcomed by Jim, Lorraine, Geno and Jin, into their home. Though the visit was short, I have a loving memory of Lorraine teaching me how to make a pot roast. As she taught me patiently how to loop and tie the string, I felt my feelings of being an intruder go away. As an adoptee, every woman who treats me like a daughter, finds a place in my heart (mind you there aren't many). 10 years ago I met my biological mother; 4 years ago, she died. I didnt know her well but I what I say about her, I can say about Lorraine; and that is that I'm simply thankful to God to have met her at the right time in my life.

My love and prayers go out to your family at this heartbreaking time.

Matthew 5:4 Blessed are those who mourn, for they will be comforted.

“ Lorraine was a spark of a woman with a great zest for life and all in it.

In the few times I was lucky enough to spend with her (and her husband), she was always warm, and gave no-nonsense advice when it was needed.

She will be sorely missed by all whose lives she has touched.

Myself and my family wish to extend our condolences to Lorraine's family. Please know you are in our thoughts and prayers.##imported-begin##Amy Grohowski##imported-end##

“ Hi Mommy,

You couldn't understand when I was trying to talk to you at the hospice...so...I thought I'd type it out here.

I miss you already. I feel as if you're still around, but not physically close...as it had been for the past 10+ years. I can't quite wrap my head around the fact that you're not with us anymore. I still feel like I can pick up the phone and hear your cranky voice when I'd call too early in the morning.

Mommy....thank you for coming back for me and Geno. Without you, we never would have known what it felt like to feel genuinely loved. We never would have learned to love others. Because of you, me and Geno got a second chance at knowing, respecting, and loving a REAL dad. Thank you for giving us Dad, too.

I promise you...we will look after Dad...

I love you Mommy...with all my heart. I will never forget your face, your voice, or your hugs.

Your daughter,

Jin##imported-begin##Jin Shin-Lopez##imported-end##
