“ My name is Ed. I met Marcel when we worked at Goodwill. we became friends almost immediately. We always talked and laughed about everything. He was like a brother to me and I love him dearly. I know his family is totally devastated and I want them to know that I am too. The world was not ready to lose such a great person and I am heartbroken to find out he is gone. His family was always wonderful to me because that's just the kinda people they are. I don't have anyone close to me to replace his spirit. He was my boy. Too many tears. I love you Cel.

“ You were my big cousin who always had something positive and encouraging to say. As a kid, whenever I got to see you, you let me know it was ok not to be perfect and not live up to anyone else's expectations but my own. I really am happy I got to see you and hang with you as adult when you came to NY. Sad my kids won't get to know your love or hear your very distinguishing voice. Knowing you're no longer supercedes all that. I love you Sassy...FLY High

“ Marcelino pan y vino.. we had an Italian pediatrician who sang that song when he called your name. You were a baby and it always stayed with me. Sassy you were always a funny guy. So many memories from your entire childhood. Through the good and the bad always had your back. God bless you with eternal peace. The earthly battle is done, now look after your family with the Lords grace. I love you. 😊

“ Prayers and condolences to the entire family. I'm at a loss for words. I will always remember Marcel as my sweet lil cousin who i remember having endless conversations about music with growing up. He'd always reached out to make sure I was good. He will be truly missed. God bless you all, I know he will forever protect and guide you.

“ I could write an entire book about our relationship. You were truly my brother from another mother. From the good times and bad, the ups and downs, the laughter and the tears. Although, there was distance between us it never changed our feelings. I find comfort in knowing that I was able to let you know how I love and cared about you. Nikki, you and the family are in my thoughts and prayers. I love you ❤️!
