“ My sister Mishelle just told me about Mark’s passing. I am beyond sad and wish I would’ve known so I could pay my respects. He and my mother dated years ago and they were roommates and friends for a very long time after that. Mark was always so good to me, my sister and the rest of our family. He treated us like his own family. I will never forget his laugh and his loyalty. We all loved him very much. I am so very sorry for your loss. —Jenna Boyd and Mishelle Walker (Debi’s daughters)

“ When I heard about Mark's death, I was devastated and cried for hours. I didn't get the chance to know Mark on a deep level but it was easy to tell that he was a pure hearted and deeply loving person. I'm so happy that my mom had such an amazing person by her side during her last days on Earth and I only hope he felt as loved as I know she did. I am so sad I will never get the chance to know him better. I hope he is now living free of the pain of this world and now living happily in Jesus's loving presence!

“ Friday, I stopped by where Mark was working and we sat and talked together for a few minutes while he took a break we laughed about some things, Mark telling me something funny as he was always doing. Our conversation got more serious, talking about some recent life issues he was dealing with; I got on to him about things I felt he shouldn't be going along with. I realized he was upset with me and I apologized telling him I was sorry but I was trying to take his side and council him to be careful what he went along with out of grief. His responded saying, " I know John, you've always had my back", he always had mine too.

I'm a grown man and I'm not ashamed to say I cried yesterday; Mark was my true friend and I will miss him dearly. I know he is with the lord now and feeling no pain but I can't help being selfish and wishing he was still here with us.
