She possessed a remarkable ability to illuminate every room she entered, filling spaces with laughter, warmth, and an infectious energy that uplifted everyone around her. She found her spiritual home at Casa De Fe, where she was a devoted member. To her, worship music was more than just notes on a page—it was her way of connecting with God and sharing a sense of peace and hope with everyone around her. Beyond her musical heart, she was a woman of sharp intellect and unwavering work ethic. She dedicated 12 years of her career as a Paralegal, serving as a steady hand and a brilliant mind within the legal community. Above all, Mayra was a devoted and loving mother to her cherished daughter, Aaliyah Lozano, affectionately known as “Ali Bear”. Through her worship, her talents, and her generous heart, she uplifted others and created a sense of belonging wherever she went. Mayra is preceded in death by her maternal grandmother, Zoila Viera Najera. Mayra is survived by her loving daughter, Aaliyah Lozano; parents, Jorge & Francisca (Najera) Lozano; siblings, Claudia (William) Hernandez, Patricia (Francisco)

“ Mayra, I miss you so much. I know you’re in a better place, and I trust that God makes no mistakes, but I’m having a hard time navigating your loss. Girl, I’m an emotional wreck. I can still hear you giving me a pep talk, even through this. You gave the best pep talks.

I was outside with the kids yesterday, and as they were playing and riding their bikes up the street, I found myself in my emotions again because all I could see was us going up and down Black Hickory.

😭 I miss going to your house, eating steak, rice and tortillas, that was my favorite and you coming to my house when my mom made hot wings, because those were your favorite. I miss going to your house after school, watching novelas, and you interpreting everything that was said. I guess that’s why Spanish came easy for me at ACC, you started me early lol.

I miss our cheer-offs and talent shows. I always told everyone I had an amazing childhood, and that was because of the bond we shared. Let’s not even talk about my teen years ☐lol... it was never a dull moment with us. Even when I moved away and we spent years apart, we somehow found our way back to each other. We didn’t talk every day, but whenever we linked up, it was never awkward. It felt like no time had passed.

I pray that our Aaliyahs will grow to know each other. I love you, my friend. Until we meet again. ❤️
