“ Mike was a gentleman’s gentleman and a true friend at times that I needed his wisdom the most in life. He was my mentor in law and colleague. When God reads the “ transcript “ of his life he will respond, “ well done my faithful servant.” I will miss Mike only temporarily as I know we will meet again over a ice tea or a “ dip in the pool” as he once told me. Thank you Mike!

“ I have a funny memory I would love to share. Many, many years ago, Mike and Ann were two of the adults that chaperoned a church teens retreat. I don't remember which camp it was but, I remember that it was up in the mountains. We were eating a pancake breakfast the morning before we left to head home. While going to get a seat, my older brother spilled syrup in Mike Jr's hair. Michael may have been about 11 or 12. To this day, I don't know if it was an accident or intentional. Mike Jr. apparently took it as intentional and went and told Mike Sr. .Mike gave Michael a bit of advice. The next thing we knew, Michael had rubbed a hand full of butter into my brother's hair. I don't think I have ever laughed so hard about something that happened to my brother. It is a memory of Mike that I have carried for years. He and Ann have always been a big part of our family. I am sending my condolences and love to each of you.

“ Mike was a good Mayor and a friend to our family for years. He would visit my Mom and Dad just to make sure they were alright or if they needed anything. He came to visit when Mom passed. It meant so much to us. I recall when we had our band, Mike would come by and sit in with his horn. Austin and my daughter Anna went to school at Loganville and were friends to this day. “ Mike Jones was my friend and we chatted often about our City. I joked with him about the first time I had talked with him. I was selling cars and I found just the right one and they were coming to the dealership to look it over...but someone else was trying to sell it out from under us. I called them and they were on the way, but Mike's were “keep your pants on, we're on our way”. He and Ann arrived and purchased the vehicle and have been friends ever since.
