“ Tricia shared her love of gardening with me, introducing me to heirloom gardening...an idea I had never heard of and now treasure. I have tried to follow her example by sharing starts of my own garden plants and nurturing starts from plants of family members and friends. She shared her expertise in a beautiful Atlanta Journal & Constitution article as well, so many others could learn about heirloom gardening. Most importantly, Tricia's love and gifts shine through the talents and gifts of my daughter-in-law that I am blessed to share my life with. Peace and blessings for Tricia's family and friends, and travel lightly for eternity dear Tricia.
