“ My mother never forgot my birthday and sent me a birthday card every year. I'm gonna miss that. She was always with me including the day in Norfolk, Virginia, when I was getting deployed for war time operations. I know she'll still be with me in spirit.

“ Aunt Pat was an inspiration - strong-willed, fiercely independent, and deeply caring. Growing up, she delighted us kids with her infamous "half-moon pie" cookies and other baked treats. She and my mom looked like twins, though there was a slight age difference between them. While both had many similar traits, they of course had their unique characteristics that made them their own person, highly memorable, and outstanding matriarch's of our respective families. They are now united again, free of any pain and suffering, and likely comparing who is more stubborn than the other (family joke). Love you and miss you both.
