“ Seems like yesterday, I remember going to the Hospital the day you were brought into this crazy world, I was only 4 myself. Just a few years later I remember you jumping on an elevator by yourself at the Holiday Inn in Panama City and giving everyone a heart attack. So many good memories!. It breaks my heart to know that we'll never get to make any new ones. We shared so many laughs and good times through the years and I'll always be able to look back and smile. Watching you become a man and joining the Army like our beloved Paw Paw made me so proud. My little Army Air born Cousin! I'll miss requesting songs and listening to your talents on the Piano. Or watching you pull up on Thanksgiving in your Fresh Built F-150 gettin a lick!!! I just can't believe your gone....Do me a favor, give Paw Paw, Granny Dutton, Big Paw, Granny Wells and all our beloved ones in Heaven a great big hug for me!!! Until we meet again in Heaven, Go rest high on that Mountain!!! I love you PK

“ Dearest Paul, I've known you since you were a spirited 4 year old. Actually, I believe you became my son-in-law just a few months later when you married Alyssa in the living room! The 2 of you were quite a pair! However, you really had my heart with your blunt honesty and your fabulous way with words! You were wise beyond your years!!

Would we have had as much fun on all those girl scout trips without you? I think not! You made every trip more exciting and very entertaining! I was very proud to be considered one of your moms, whether it was during scouts, a baseball game, or just hanging around the house. You grew into such a handsome, talented young man with a heart as big as all out doors. The World will miss you; I will miss you; I Love you Paul.

I was very blessed to have Paul Jr as my friend for 25 years growing up in the Grayson area and riding the bus together for many years us playing catch in the front yard as kids to waxing and washing his beloved white F150 and riding around town listening to the music group Alabama one of his favorite groups . I am lucky as a 7 because I know he is in heaven with his lord and savior Jesus forever loved and missed but living in our hearts . Rest peacefully my dear true friend .

“ Remembering the day you were born, the joy in your mom's arms. Growing up so quickly into such a handsome man. Talented at baseball, violin and the piano. You could build and work on anything thrown your direction. The smile on your face would light a room. Your memory will stay in all our hearts. Never will you be forgotten Paul Jr. Success and trials come before each of us. We love you sweet Paul and wish I could hear your goofy impressions of Jim Carey. You were "spot on". We would call, you would come when we needed you, you were there. Mr. Fix-it. Such a loss for all of your friends and family. Watch from above our dear Paul as we will all be together again one day. Love you forever.
