“ The first time I met Randy, he attended a model train session at my house in Hoschton. At that time I liked him and his dry sense of humor. Randy fit right into our group of a dozen guys to run trains and joke about life. He will be missed by myself and many others. It was too early for him, but we don't control everything. While I wanted to attend the service, I have trouble driving at night but was thinking about Randy.
