“ A few days ago was the 6th year you've been gone & it still hurts the same as it did the day you died. I miss you so much & keep you alive in my memories & heart. We all still talk about you on a regular basis, especially my kids, they really looked up to you & you made such an impact on their lives & mine. Too bad you weren't here when I had my last & youngest child Gabriella, she's 2 1/2 years old & is a lot like me, you would love her little personality. I have some of your ashes in a little tackle box thing & wrote some stuff about you on the outside of the box, they sit in my window & I catch myself talking to it sometimes, crazy huh? I still get little reminders of you every few months too. One day I went to go somewhere in my vehicle & out of no where I smelled your cologne for a few minutes & then it went away. I've had a few things like that happen & it always puts a smile on my face. I love you & miss you. You'll never be forgotten by us.

Love Jennifer, your stepdaughter

“ We miss you more than ever now. Not a minute goes by that I don't think about you. Just thought I would put some more loving words out here for you. I liked to think you are watching over us, and know our pain over losing you. I also like to think you are at complete peace now, with your loved ones###imported-begin###Rhianna Holliday###imported-end##

SueAnn, so sorry for your loss. I just found out about Rick and Robbie's passing. I don't know if you'll remember me but we lived just two houses down from your folks and I was Ricky's girlfriend when we were kids. Again my heart aches for all of you. Ginger Hare

“ Rick was my heart. He deserved more time with all that loved him here on earth, I guess Heaven needed a new angel. He was a very special man with a loving heart that impacted many people. God Love You Rick!!!! Now he can hunt and fish with his dad and family for that was what he loved the most. I will miss him forever until we meet again. May he be with Jesus and rest in peace.##imported-begin##Cheryl Holliday##imported-end##
