“ I too, had the privilege to work with and learn from Bob on the flight line. He was very knowledgeable and a great mentor, even when it came to practical jokes. I ended up more than once on the business end of his practical jokes, but I learned that he could take back just as much as he could dish out. Thanks for the memories Bob, Rest In Peace Brother.

“ I had the honor to work with Bob at Cannon AFB, NM in the "522d Fireballs". We spent many nights on the flightline. We had many discussion on life, the better college school and who was the best crewchief. He kept things going with his contagious laugh and always challenged everyone around him to be better. His practical jokes still stay with me today. I will always remember how he did not like flying to TDY locations, and use it on new Airman I work with. Like C. Deckard said, "Till we meet again for some beer and wings." RIP good friend and fellow Air Force Warrior.
