Sarah was born on Feb. 9th, 1930, at home in Hog Mountain Georgia, Mrs. Lauderdale moved to Forest Park after she married the love of her life Bud. Then the family moved to Snellville and later she moved to Powder Springs after her husband passed to be near her son and daughter in law. Sarah was beloved by many. She was a wonderful wife, mother, and friend. She was a woman of extraordinary faith and a powerful prayer warrior. Sarah loved music, especially gospel music and country music. She could not read music, never had a lesson, but could play the piano by ear. She just had to hear a song and then she could play it. Sarah loved her son Neil more than anything and instilled in him the love of music as well as the love of the Lord. She will be greatly missed and so loved. Life will not be the same without her.

Sarah accepted Jesus as her savior at a church revival when she was 13 years old. It was the beginning of a lifelong relationship with the Lord and that relationship carried her through many difficulties in her life as well as many wonderful times.

In her final days, her daughter in law Susan was with her and they were listening to gospel singing on tv. The song, The God of the Mountain came on. Susan began singing it and the next thing she knew Sarah was humming along briefly. That song in those moments speaks of her great faith and love of the Lord. Even in the valley, God is good. When all you have is Jesus, He is all you need.

Sarah was preceded in death by her father, Seaborn Puckett and her mother, Ruth Opal Stevenson Puckett, her brother, Allen Hunter Puckett and husband, Lee "Bud" Lauderdale.

Sarah is survived by her son, Neil (Susan) Lauderdale, Roger (Tracy) Rosine, niece Sharon (John) Puckett Yingst, nephew Julian Puckett, nieces Deborah & Barbara, countless cousins, great nieces and nephews and lifelong friends and neighbors.

In lieu of flowers, donations may be made to Calvary's Children's home 1430 Lost Mountain Road, Powder Springs GA 30127 or to Hurt Road Baptist Church 17 Hurt Road, Smyrna, GA 30082.
